

expressed their direct opposition to the Halligan doctrine by voting for Case, it was argued.

With 145 election districts missing out of a total of 2,733 the vote stood: Gilroy, 69,265; Halligan, 16,340; Case, 13,400.

In the vote for Mayor the vote, with 932 out of 2,733 election districts, the result was: Curran, 65,324; Haskell, 28,785; La Guardia, 23,896; Bennett, 2,906.

In the two leadership fights in Tammany Hall it appeared at an early hour this morning as if both the organization men had won in the "thirteenth" Assembly district. Augustus Wise was leading Andrew J. Keating by a vote of two to one.

In the Twenty-third Assembly district fight John M. Murn, the fourth street selection, was ahead of William J. Murphy by eighty votes.

Mr. Curran's own Assembly district—the 10th Manhattan—gave him an overwhelming lead. He defeated Haskell by eighteen to one and La Guardia by about seven to one.

As early as 10 o'clock Samuel S. Koenig, chairman of the New York County Republican Committee, said: "Indications are that Curran will sweep Manhattan by 35,000 to 40,000. If that ratio keeps up Haskell will be snuffed under and La Guardia will beat Haskell in Manhattan and 'The Bronx'."

It was evident that Curran had not yet got the men who had enrolled as Republicans for the first time—Democrats, who had been classed as "wets."

At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, it was noted that last night, orders went direct from Charles F. Murphy in the fourth street wigwam to every Tammany leader. The orders were that every man must do his best to get out the men who had enrolled as Republicans for the first time—Democrats, who had been classed as "wets."

George F. Baker, the Republican "organization" candidate for Borough President of Brooklyn, easily defeated Hamilton Melhuise, who made a noisy but hopeless fight. It was learned he had voted in New Rochelle a year ago.

The Tammany city ticket was nominated at the Democratic primaries with out opposition. Mayor John F. Hylan will again head the ticket, with Charles L. Craig renamed for Comptroller, Dock Commissioner Murray Hubert, and the candidate for President of the Board of Aldermen.

By strenuous work Borough President Maurice E. Canolty of Queens retained his leadership of the Democratic orators, but by winning a third nomination for head of the borough, Denis O'Leary, the stormy petrel of Queens, broke lances with him for the nomination but fell short of victory.

There was opposition all along the line to the Republican-Coalition slate arranged by Richard W. Lawrence, the Bronx. But the organization won Joseph M. Levine, a Democrat, was named for Borough President on this ticket to run against Borough President Henry Bruckner, the Democratic incumbent in the regular election.

Ernest F. Elliott, Republican-Coalition candidate for President of the Borough of Manhattan, succeeded Mr. Curran, had no opposition.

George Cromwell became the Republican candidate for Borough President in Richmond again, no one daring to run against him.

Bennett Court Ticket Loses.

The Republican-Coalition ticket in New York county easily secured a victory over the candidates named in opposition by Mr. Bennett. Frank Hendrick made the best fight for one of the three nominations to the Board of General Sessions. It was waged against the Republican endorsement of Judge Joseph M. Mulqueen, and he succeeded in keeping the name of the County Clerk, Judge Morris Koenig, and John H. Seelin had no trouble in taking the two other nominations from Magistrate Joseph J. Marsh and Joseph Behliff, the Bennett ticket.

Theodore T. Baylor, the Bennett candidate for nomination for District Attorney, did better than any of the others, as he had first place in the group, and many did not know he was not the organization candidate. John Kirkland Clark, the Coalition choice, won, however.

John S. Shea, defeated Samuel Feld, for Sheriff, and Charles Novello outdistanced Margaret Douglas, the Bennett candidate for the County Clerkship nomination.

William H. Choroach and William J. Millard, the Coalition candidates for the City Court, which has jurisdiction in New York county and The Bronx, secured under the Bennett men, Elihu J. Zwilling and J. D. C. Murphy.

There was no opposition to Tammany's New York county ticket except in the case of Mr. Hopper's "wets" attempt to land as Register. The candidates for Judges of General Sessions are Judge Mulqueen, F. X. Mancuso and Judge Alfred J. Talley, who was first turned down by Mr. Murphy and then restored to the ticket after a protest had been raised. Major Percival E. Nagle will be the Tammany candidate for Sheriff, and James A. Donegan, a Hearst man, for County Clerk.

Joseph H. Banton, who has been District Attorney Swann's first assistant, is to run for District Attorney. City Court Justices Edward B. La Petra and Louis A. Valente have been renominated.

KINCAID RENOMINATED FOR MT. VERNON MAYOR

Mrs. Harry Leon Beaten for Alderman.

The primary fight between Mayor Elmer L. Kincaid and Alderman Harry Kolbe for the Republican nomination for Mayor of Mount Vernon resulted in the renomination of Mayor Kincaid by a majority of about 850 votes. Many women turned out to help the Mayor.

The Republican organization declined to endorse either candidate and let them fight it out in the primaries. Alderman Sedgwick, who was opposed for a renomination by Mrs. Harry Leon, wife of an actor in the Second Ward, defeated her by a small majority.

Edwin W. Plake, former Mayor, received the unanimous support of the Democrats for the Mayorality nomination. The contest between the Republican candidates was one of the most exciting ever held in Mount Vernon, about 8,000 enrolled Republicans voting.

MRS. SABIN WINS FIGHT IN SUFFOLK PRIMARY

Nominates Peck and Beats Kendrick for Assembly.

REVEREND, L. I. Sept. 12.—Mrs. Pauline Sabin, wife of Charles H. Sabin, president of the Guaranty Trust Company in New York, was instrumental today in procuring the nomination of Prof. John G. Peck of Southampton for Assemblyman on the Republican ticket in the First district of Suffolk county. The fight was a three cornered one, the other candidates being Dr. Agate Foster, formerly President of the village of Patchogue, and Justice of the Peace Robert R. Kendrick of Southampton.

Mrs. Sabin and Kendrick had a controversy some time ago over the right to use a road on the Sabin estate in the Southampton Hills.

Mrs. Sabin was chosen a committeeman in her own district, and Kendrick, who also sought the office of committeeman in his, was defeated.

AID PLEDGED CURRAN BY MEN HE DEFEATED

Haskell and Bennett Say They Will Turn In for G. O. P. Nominee.

'NOW TO BEAT TIGER' Successful Candidate in Statement Calls for United Effort.

Judge Reuben L. Haskell and former Senator William L. Bennett conceded the nomination of Borough President Henry H. Curran last night soon after the election returns began to come in and sent him personal messages of congratulation, pledging him their wholehearted support in his campaign to beat the Hylan-Hearst-Tammany combination in November. At a late hour P. H. La Guardia, Mr. Curran's third opponent in the primary, had not conceded defeat, but, having declared repeatedly during the preliminary campaign that he would stand by the results of the balloting, it was expected that the Aldermanic President would abide by his promise cheerfully and join hands for the success of the Mayorality election.

Mr. Curran received the returns indicating his victory at his campaign headquarters in the Hotel Hermitage, together with Vincent Gilroy, his running mate for President of the Board of Aldermen, and John J. Lyons, Secretary of State, who made up his campaign. Mr. Curran was the centre of jubilant congratulations and a storm of good wishes for his success in the November election commenced by telephone, telegram and by word of mouth from as many persons as could crowd to him.

Mr. Curran took all optimistic forecasts with a philosophic grain of salt until the returns indicated unmistakably that he had been nominated. Turning to Mr. Lyons, he said: "Well, Jack, that's done. Next."

Statement Made by Curran.

Mr. Curran then dictated the following statement:

"I am glad that the job is finished. Now for the real work. My first thought is to thank the enrolled men and women of the Republican party in every section of every one of the five boroughs for their fine vote of confidence in our success this fall.

"I know that a whole lot of them went to great inconvenience to vote in the primaries, and every one of us has reason to be proud of the great vote, because it plainly points to what is going to happen this fall. The primary contest has been a credit to the Republican party.

"It was a clean, honorable, hard fought match, and I deeply appreciate the high standard of the campaigning which my opponents followed.

"I tried to handle my own campaign in just the same way, and now we all go into the real fight with a united front to bring our city up out of the misgovernment under which it suffers."

Mr. Curran's nomination became certain he said:

"The members of the Republican party have risen nobly to their obligation to secure good city government by the selection of the best man for the job. Curran-Lockwood-Gilroy ticket."

"They have ignored partisan lines and have demonstrated their realization that the battle that must be waged by all citizens, I now summon the Independents and the Democrats to show they are as strongly interested in good government as are the members of the Republican party by placing themselves solidly behind the Curran-Lockwood-Gilroy ticket and electing by an overwhelming vote the candidates pledged to good government."

Assurances From Haskell.

At 11 o'clock Mr. Bennett declared the returns were sufficient to show "the handwriting on the wall," and thereafter evinced little interest in them except a curiosity to see the volume of Mr. Curran's victory. He sent Mr. Curran a telegram at 11:30 conceding him victory and later called him on the telephone to give a personal touch to his assurances of support in the Mayorality campaign.

"Mr. Curran, I want to extend you my congratulations," he said over the telephone, "and assure you that I will support you to the limit in the coming campaign."

"Good," replied Mr. Curran, "I know you would, and I want to thank you for it."

Meanwhile Judge Haskell, receiving the returns in his headquarters in the Hotel Commodore, also had conceded Mr. Curran's victory and soon after 11 o'clock issued the following statement:

"I am a reader I can render best in the Republican party. I am not leaving the Republican party just because I happen to have been beaten."

Mr. La Guardia, with his coat off and his ear to the telephone, remained in his headquarters in the Hotel Netherlands until after midnight. At that time he had not conceded his defeat. "While it looks as though we are getting the worst of it," he said, "we are not giving up yet."

His supporters surrounding him were talking "fraud" and "counting out" and showing generally a disgruntled spirit over the turn of events. Mr. La Guardia refused to be quoted, but admitted that it had been asserted by some of his workers that he had been "counted out" in Brooklyn and in parts of Manhattan and The Bronx. They laid their charge at the door of the Republican-Coalition forces. One worker said:

"It's their organization. They have five to one working against us in every election district."

A surprising optimism prevailed in Mr. La Guardia's headquarters at midnight when it appeared that he was running neck and neck with Mr. Curran in The Bronx and that he would beat Mr. Curran in Manhattan and Queens.

The nearest to an admission of defeat came from the La Guardia headquarters where the following statement made about 12:30 by Miss Elizabeth Brownell Collier, president of the New York County Republican League, vice-chairman of the Brooklyn League of Women Voters and a member of Mr. La Guardia's executive committee:

"President La Guardia made a splendid fight and succeeded in compelling the Coalition candidate to accept all of the major planks of his platform. He has performed a service to the Republican party in outlining for it the only platform on which it can possibly win the general election in November."

Samuel S. Koenig, chairman of the New York County Republican Committee, did not dissent from the victory of his candidate and at the prospects for a united Republican and Independent Democratic support for the nominee in the general election.

HYLAN ASKS CREDIT FOR NEW SCHOOLS

Says 22 Will Be in Operation Before 1922 Despite War and Other Drawbacks.

REPLIES TO HIS CRITICS Mayor Regrets Propagandists Make Education a Football of Politics.

"It is regrettable that every four years whenever an election comes on political propagandists attempt to use the schools as a political football," Mayor Hylan said yesterday. He gave out a statement from his office answering "professional propagandists" who, he said, were attacking his administration through the schools for political reasons.

It was pointed out that Mayor Hylan's big campaign issue four years ago was his demand that the Gary system be abolished and that the only information so far given to the Mayor committee in its investigation of the educational system has come from Annings S. Prall, the Mayor's appointee as president of the Board of Education. The Mayor's statement was as follows:

"So that the people of the city may know the correct facts about school conditions and not be misled by political opponents, biased and unfriendly newspapers, I feel it incumbent to make the following statement:

There were opened on Monday, September 12, in the city of New York twelve new schools, seating 15,000 children, thereby providing for an additional 37,000,000, which will be in excess of 30,000 children who were on part time in 1920. Before the end of the year there will be ten additional schools opened, further reducing part time over 40,000. There are seventeen new schools and additions under contract, and as fast as they can be finished will be opened. Other contracts for the construction of schools are about to be let.

During my administration $40,000,000 has been appropriated to build schools. The school programme provides for an additional $7,000,000, which will be in excess of 30,000 children who were on part time in 1920. Before the end of the year there will be ten additional schools opened, further reducing part time over 40,000. There are seventeen new schools and additions under contract, and as fast as they can be finished will be opened. Other contracts for the construction of schools are about to be let.

"The first year of this administration new schoolhouses could not be constructed owing to war conditions; the same conditions prevented the erection of dwellings; the second year labor conditions were such that little progress could be made. More schools have been built, opened and are under contract during this administration than several past administrations combined. If this administration had not had the aid of the construction of schools would to-day be practically at a standstill. This condition would be just what those who are circulating false propaganda would like to see."

"These same political propagandists are endeavoring to
